Summary

This week I paid a lot of time on reading papers. We had discussed our mission and made a division with our work. On Friday I went to listen the lecture of Professor Rüdiger Westermann. But because of my poor English, I couldn't understand his speech sometimes on the morning. And on the afternoon the situation was better then. The PCA algorithm is easy to understand. I also learned that the best way to solve a problem is easily and beauty.

To do list

Next week I will still read papers and do my mission well.
